Sickness : Brain Nerves Loss of Control, Left Hand Abnormal & Bad Cholesterol

I was admitted to hospital for some time when I was 7 years old. It was due to high fever which causes my Brain Nerves Loss of Control that affected my left hand to move normally. This sickness has been suffered by me years by years. My parents, relatives and friends had helped me to searching high and low for doctors. Moreover, I had tried from whomever doctors they found but no one would cure my sickness.

There was once, I totally gave up for my sickness till I met with Mr Wong Hock Yim (Perak Ironman) when I was having slow walk at "Menglembu Hill". Then, I told him all about my sickness. Mr Wong had asked me to put a trust on him with his own medicated oil and therapy would help me to cure my sickness.

Hesitated at the beginning stage and finally I had put a trial on Mr Wong. Miracle exist, I felt improving from Mr Wong's therapy from first step to another. My hand moved well, blood circulation improved and bad cholesterol was gone as I went for medical check up after my therapy.

Now I wish those who read this letter will put a trust on Mr Wong's therapy and the medicated oil.

Thank you Mr Wong.

I trust Mr Wong can change your life!
